The Feline fuelled
by APTOS

MAU

MAU serves as the figurehead of the Meme community within the Aptos ecosystem, designed to encourage, empower, and welcome new users to the chain. We've observed the emergence of the furry meme community, featuring notable tokens like Doge, Shiba, and even the frog, Pepe. This raises the question: Where is the feline presence? This Litepaper aims to provide an overview of the advancements made by Aptos and address why there currently isn't a friendly feline hero.

EXISTING CHAINS

Currently, EVM chains face challenges such as high fees, slow transaction times, and a lack of built-in safeguards within Solidity. Is this truly the future of finance? Global cryptocurrency adoption is currently estimated at 4.2%, yet we still experience outages and significant network congestion. To achieve mass cryptocurrency adoption, we need a chain built for the masses, and that's where Aptos comes into play.

APTOS

Aptos offers a solution to these problems through faster transactions, achieving an impressive 100,000 TPS beating VISA by a whopping 76,000 TPS. This is made possible by parallel execution, allowing multiple transactions to be processed simultaneously. Additionally, Aptos incorporates built-in security through its native language, MOVE.
